WISE WORDS OF THE WEEK:

What word of hope do we have to offer to the millions of people in the world who see no meaning in their lives?

For most people in the world the question is not, "Is there a life on the other side of death?" It is, rather, "Is there life on this side of death?" Until we Christians give evidence that there is life on this side of death, the world has no reason to believe our dogmas or our giant churches. It doesn't need our words of hell. It needs some evidence of heaven.
